SECURITY REQUIREMENTS FOR REMOTE TERMINAL ACCESS

25X1A 1. To satisfy the requirements of Director of Central Intelligence Directive 1/16, "Security of Compartmented Computer Operations", persons accessing Office of Joint Computer Support computer systems through remote terminals have been required to hold security approvals for access to all compartmented data resident therein (i.e., Special Intelligence, TK and [REDACTED]. The result has been a deterioration of the compartmentation "need-to-know" concept due to the proliferation of remote terminals and the increase in personnel utilizing these devices.

2. On 7 April 1975, the CIA member of the United States Intelligence Board, in accordance with the authority granted in paragraph 2, page 1, DCID 1/16, granted a waiver of this requirement. All remote terminal users accessing OJCS systems will henceforth require an Agency TOP SECRET clearance with an approval for access to Special Intelligence (SI) material as a minimum. Approval for access to other compartmented data will be required only for personnel utilizing terminals specifically designated for input or output of such data.

3. All personnel who previously received compartmented access briefings solely to satisfy the requirements of DCID 1/16 should contact their administrative officer to arrange to be debriefed of the ones not now needed. The administrative officer can make these debriefing arrangements with the Special Security Center, Office of Security, extension [REDACTED]
